

CYPHERS ANTI-FLY PEST

Protects Cows and Horses

It is guaranteed to prevent all winged insects from annoying cattle and horses. One application protects for at least 24 hours. Do not expect the best work from the horse that is worn out fighting flies.

Do not expect your cows to give the largest possible yield of milk if they are not permitted to feed in peace and quiet.

ANTI-FLY PEST does not discolor a white coat, nor does it cause the hair to become sticky.

HAWAII'S FUTURE SEEMS VERY BRIGHT

Department of Commerce and Labor,
Bureau of Statistics,
Washington.

January 30, 1907.

Dear Sir:—I beg to express to you my thanks for the map which you send me, entitled "Crossroads of the Pacific." It is a very interesting and striking presentation of the importance of Hawaii to the commerce of the Pacific, and of the commerce of the Pacific to Hawaii; and whether we consider it in the first mentioned light, of the importance of Hawaii to Pacific commerce, or in the second, of the importance of Pacific commerce to Hawaii, we can but see in it a bright future for the Hawaiian Islands and their people. That the commerce of the Pacific is sure to grow in the immediate future more rapidly than that of any other ocean section of the world is generally conceded and indeed can not be doubted when we take into consideration the prospect that we shall within a few years open a new door to that greatest of oceans, the door of the Panama canal. Not only is it the greatest of oceans, but it furnishes the highway for interchange between great sections of the world which are mutually interdependent, and in those interchanges Hawaii can but profit as the great central station, the crossroads, as your map very aptly puts it, of the various highways connecting Asia and Oceania on the one hand with America on the other, and when the Panama Canal shall be opened, with Europe also.

But there is another thought which I want to take this occasion to express, and that is that the true prosperity of Hawaii lies, in my opinion, in the development of highways in the interior of the islands rather than highways on the ocean. By this I mean that the greatest prosperity which could come to your islands is through an opening up of the interior and such diversification of industries and producing power as would be possible under such conditions. A section able to produce such a variety of tropical articles as may be produced in the Hawaiian Islands, and having free access to a market demanding such enormous quantities of those various articles as does the market of the United States, ought to become not merely prosperous, as it already is, but one of the most prosperous and perhaps the most prosperous of all the tropical communities of the world. With the power to produce sugar, of which the United States imports more than one hundred million dollars' worth a year; with the power to produce coffee, of which we import from seventy-five to one hundred million dollars' worth annually; with the power to grow rubber, of which we import fifty million dollars' worth annually; with the power to produce tropical fruits, of which we import thirty-five million dollars' worth annually; with the power to produce sisal, of which we import fifteen million dollars' worth annually; and with the power to produce coconuts, of which we import nearly ten million dollars' worth annually, the possibilities of increased prosperity in Hawaii seem to me very great, and if you can bring about a development of "crossroads" in the interior of your islands, as commerce has already made those islands the crossroads of the ocean, you will see a still further improvement in that wonderful prosperity of which we are, all of us, so proud.

Very truly yours,
O. P. AUSTIN,
Chief of Bureau.

Mr. H. P. Wood, Secretary, The Hawaiian Promotion Committee, Honolulu, Hawaii.

Shirt Waists

Serial Story No. 8

Most nice shirtwaists worn in this country are thin and delicate, with lace insertions. It is hard to find a laundry with reasonable prices that does satisfactory work on shirtwaists.

Very often the waist is returned not properly starched and the lace is ironed flat and folded over at the edges and all sealed down with starch. This makes a beautiful hand-worked waist look like an old fifty-cent stock waist.

The Hartman Steam Laundry employs Hawaiian women to starch and iron all shirtwaists by hand. These girls do nothing else. We see to it that they do them the way you want them.

Our prices for shirtwaists are from 20 to 60 cents each.
